

Back by Popular Demand!

ENGAGING ACTIVE LEARNERS

Integrating Drama and Movement into the Curriculum

Day of Workshops for Educators K-8

March 24, 2011 8am-3pm

Creating movement pieces of scientific concepts and historical events, adding dramatic details to narrative writing, and bringing book passages to life are only a few topics to be demonstrated at this day-long celebration of the vital role of arts integration in 21st century learning. In strands designed for teachers of primary, intermediate and middle school grades, three different workshops will be led by classroom teachers and Flynn teaching artists of integrated lessons they created together and found especially successful with students. The day will begin with Flynn teaching artist Lida Winfield presenting excerpts of her stunning dance/spoken word creation titled "In Search of Air" where she reflects on her struggle to learn to read. After this day, you'll return to your classroom inspired and renewed, with ideas to put into practice right away!

This year's list of breakout workshops and presenters is listed on the back! Register now to be assured a place. Space is limited!

LOCATION: Flynn Center for the Performing Arts

COST: CVEDC-ESA members -- $50; non-members -- $60

REGISTER on-line: www.cvedcvt.org

To register successfully, you must write payment information (check or P.O.) on the payment line. Payment to the Flynn Center is due the day of the event.

Registration Questions?

Contact CVEDC at worth@champlain.edu

Content Questions?

Contact the Flynn Center at 802-652-4540

Or email education@flynncenter.org

CVEDC-ESA

FLYNNCENTER
PERFORMING ARTS

Back by Popular Demand!

ENGAGING ACTIVE LEARNERS
Integrating Drama and Movement into the Curriculum

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

subject to change

8-8:30

Registration; Resources; Bagels with Tea and Coffee

8:30-9:15

Welcome; Excerpt from "In Search of Air," a solo performance created and presented by Lida Winfield reflecting on her heartache and triumph of growing up with a learning disability.

Note on Workshops: When you register, you will be asked to sign up for workshops in each time slot. The subjects listed are intentionally broad because the techniques to be demonstrated can be easily applied to many topics within that content area. In fact, time will be set aside in each workshop to brainstorm other topics to address with the presented techniques. The age ranges listed serve simply as recommendations; teachers of any grade level are invited to whatever workshops they wish.

9:30-10:45

Workshop A: (choose one of the following)

A1) Primary: Science, Reading and Drama led by Dawn Bates, grade preK-K teacher, Greater Burlington YMCA, and Tracy Martin, Flynn Center

A2) Intermediate: History and Movement led by Lida Winfield, Flynn Center inspired by work done with Terry Robinson, grades 3-4 teacher, Folsom Education and Community Center

A3) Middle: French and Drama led by Helen Bishop, French teacher, Folsom Education and Community Center, and Kim Jordan, Flynn Center

11-12:15

Workshop B: (choose one of the following)

B1) Primary: Reading and Movement led by Aurie Thibault, Grade 1 teacher, Integrated Arts Academy, and Lida Winfield, Flynn Center

B2) Intermediate: Impulsivity, Emotional Response and Drama led by Regina Robbins, guidance counselor, Alburgh Community Education Center, and Kim Jordan, Flynn Center

B3) Middle: History and Drama led by Dorothy Theriault, Social Studies teacher, North Hero School, and Joan Robinson, Flynn Center

12:15-1:15

Lunch on your own; Resources

1:15-2:30

Workshop C: (choose one of the following)

C1) Primary: Writing and Drama led by Mary Neudecker, grade 2 teacher, Integrated Arts Academy, and Joan Robinson, Flynn Center

C2) Intermediate: Reading, Writing and Drama led by Susanna Olson, Flynn Center, inspired by work with Sandra Brooks, grades 4-6 teacher, Isle La Motte School

C3) Middle: Science and Movement led by Peg Brakeley, grades 5-6 teacher, Robinson Elementary School, and Tracy Martin, Flynn Center.

2:45-3

Wrap-Up; Evaluations (And for those who turn in their evaluations and are still present, a lottery of freebies or discounts!)