Vermont Health Educators Summer Institute

Featuring: Catriona McHardy

Sexuality Trainer with national recognition for excellence in professional training

Sexuality is one of the most basic life aspects yet one of the hardest topics to teach and discuss. This training immerses participants in the fundamental aspects of sexuality and will add new slants to the most familiar content of a sexuality education program. Throughout the training we will examine different aspects of sexuality including adolescent sexuality and our philosophical and ethical views about sexual expression. Participants will discuss the latest topics and trends in the field of sexuality and will gain skills to discuss these topics with students and other colleagues. This training will explore cutting edge research on critical and current topics that relate to sexuality and participants will experience a renewed spark with which to advocate for sexual health. Join us for an educational retreat that will stimulate your mind!
